

I knew that training Daisy wasn't going to be easy...

The day you brought home your new puppy, you weren't quite sure what to expect. You knew you wanted a companion in the house. You knew you wanted something that was furry and cute. But little did you know....the puppy you were taking home would soon become one of your most faithful sidekicks. The one you can always count on as a constant. Your loyal friend.

You knew for certain that you didn't want to spend all the time in the world trying to house train your new companion.

You just wanted to get the hard part done with.

That's why AKC Training Pads get the job done quickly. Our history with dogs of all breeds dates back to 1884. So we know what it takes to house train your puppy the right way.

The pads' absorbant lining traps messes in, and the aroma attracts dogs and hides smells. You and your puppy shouldn't have to take up all your time house training.

Let AKC get the job done right the first time.

Find us on Amazon and Ebay.

